Investors Community Bank CEO part of panel discussion at FDIC conference

(Manitowoc, WI, April 22, 2016) Tim Schneider, CEO of Investors Community Bank, participated in a panel discussion on "Ownership Structure and Succession Planning" at the FDIC Community Banking Conference Strategies for Long-Term Success.

Held on April 6 in Arlington, Virginia, the program offered an engaging dialogue on key community banking issues. As part of the FDIC's community banking initiative, the conference explored strategies for long-term success in the community banking sector.

Approximately 300 attendees listened to Schneider and other panelists from the FDIC, Texas A&M University and Mohave State Bank discuss how the structure of ownership and management influences the performance of community banks, challenges associated with succession planning and developing new community bankers.

The event provided a unique opportunity to hear from and interact with community bank CEOs from around the country, as well as researchers, regulators and other thought leaders. Discussion focused on successful community bank business models, key regulatory developments, opportunities and challenges in managing technology, and ownership structure and succession planning.

Investors Community Bank is a wholly-owned subsidiary of County Bancorp, Inc. and is committed to offering customized financial solutions to agriculture and commercial customers. Founded in 1997, Investors has become one of the most successful bank startups in Wisconsin's history and has full service offices in Manitowoc and Stevens Point, as well as Loan Production Offices in Eau Claire, Sheboygan, Darlington and Fond du Lac. County Bancorp Inc.'s common stock is traded on the NASDAQ market under the symbol ICBK.
